

Lite Fantastic

School of Dance

741A Avalon Road
Winston-Salem, NC 27104
(336) 724-2276

Jimmy Satterwhite, Instructor
Private Lessons by appointment

Lite Fantastic got its name from the phrase “trip the light fantastic.” The phrase originally came from the Milton poem “L’Allegro”, however, the most popular usage comes from the late 19th century song, “The Sidewalks of New York”: “East side, West side.....me and Mamie O’Rourke trip the light fantastic on the sidewalks of New York.” Lite Fantastic literally means “to dance.”

Lite Fantastic School of Dance specializes in quality instruction in social dancing for adults. Professional instructors are prepared to teach everything from Ballroom and Nightclub style dancing to Shag and Latin. We use a proven system of teaching consisting of private instruction, group instruction, practice sessions and parties. These elements work together to help students become well-rounded dancers. Dancing is not only a great low impact aerobic exercise, but also helps develop style and self-confidence.

Call for details on our dance program. Join in the fun and let us show you how to “Trip the Lite Fantastic!”

Jimmy Satterwhite (fourth from right) with some of his students after a recent Showcase at the school.